WILDERNESS UNCUT

Julie Chandelier

Photographer and Private Guide

French/Swedish, Julie Chandelier has been based in New Zealand since 2017. A wildlife and conservation photographer and experienced expedition guide, she is most at home in remote places and thrives on the excitement of discovering new landscapes and observing wildlife. Since 2022, Julie has guided in some of the world's most spectacular and remote areas, primarily in the Arctic and Antarctica. In 2024, she expanded her guiding experience to Africa, leading photographic safaris in Botswana. She quickly fell in love with the magic of the African bush, from its extraordinary wildlife to its vast, ever-changing landscapes, and looks forward to continuing to explore everything Africa has to offer. Whether helping guests capture memorable images or simply encouraging them to slow down and take in a special moment, Julie loves sharing the natural world with others and helping them come away with lasting memories and stories of their own.
