WILDERNESS UNCUT

Sara Jenner

Photographer and Private Guide

I travel across the globe in search of wild and remote places, and have spent many months volunteering for wildlife conservation projects to help endangered species. My love for wildlife and the great outdoors has taken me to all seven continents. Over the past decade, I have travelled extensively in the polar regions as an Expedition Leader in small vessels in the High Arctic, Antarctica, and Sub Antarctic Islands.

As a photographic guide in the heart of Botswana, the enchanting realms of East Africa, and the mystical landscapes of India, I truly lead a life of two wondrous halves.
